We may change, supplement or amend this Cookie Policy for future use of the Website from time to time, for any reason, by posting a revised policy on the Website. In such event the Website will clearly mention that the Cookie Policy is updated.

1/ What are cookies?

A cookie is a small piece of data sent from a Website and stored in a user's web browser or mobile phone while a user is browsing a Website. A cookie contains a unique code which allows to recognize your browser while consulting the Website or platform (also called "session" cookie) or during later, repeated visits (a "permanent" cookie). Cookies can be placed by the Website/the platform or by partners who collaborate with the server/the platform. The Websites' server can only read self-placed cookies and has no access whatsoever to other data stored in your computer or mobile phone. Cookies will be saved on your computer or mobile device in a separate folder of your browser. A cookie mostly consists of the name of the server that placed the cookie, an expiration date and a unique numeric code. Cookies enhance the interaction between visitor/user and the Website/platform by making it faster, more simple and by helping the visitor/user to navigate between the features of the Website.

2/ Which cookies do we use?

The Website/platform uses different types of cookies:

- (i) Required cookies: the cookies are indispensable to visit and use certain parts of our Website and platform. E.g.: the cookies allow to navigate between different sections of the Website/platform.
- (ii) Performance cookies: we use performance cookies to collect data about the usage of the Website, in order to enhance the content of the Website, to adapt the Website to the users' needs and more in general to provide a better user experience.
- (iii) Functional cookies: Functional cookies are used to facilitate the functioning of the platform and to make the user-experience more personalized.
- (iv) Tracking cookies: Tracking cookies are used to track the web browsing habits of the users. Tracking cookies can be stored for a maximum of one year. This type of cookies registers non-vital information, such as the way the visitor accessed the website for the first time.

- (v) Third party cookies: The website contains elements of third parties, such as advertisement partners. The user should consult the website of that third party if he wishes to receive more information on these cookies.
